KITCHEN

Elmar was founded in 1978 in Biancade (TV) and since its origins has stood out for its tension towards innovation and research. Since the early 90s the company has started some collaborations with well-known designers to develop new and ergonomic moving systems that over time have become one of the most identifying strengths of the company.

For Elmar, the kitchen has always been synonymous with sharing and daily conviviality; a true macro-world, a place of flavors, essences, taste and emotions, where extreme versatility allows you to reinvent the space in a few gestures, transforming it into a multifunctional and dynamic area. The ability to listen and attention to relationships allow for an ever-new reading of everyday life and a current, high-quality and technologically advanced response. Three are the values that mark Elmar products: the centrality of man, research and environmental sustainability, and have always characterized the uniqueness of the company.
